

VARIOUS CLUBS OF CITY TO RESUME WORK NEXT MONTH

The various clubs of the city will resume their work next week after having been adjourned for the summer. The parent-teacher associations of the various schools are also planning their programs and work, and the numerous societies of the church in the city will resume their activities at the time the fall session begins the first week in October.

The clubs mentioned here of the offiauditor, Mrs. H. W. Schaeffer, press reporter. This club includes the best musical talent of the city and the various recitals they will present during the course of the year promise to be worth while.

MAINTAINS LIBRARY.

The Y.W.C.A. club is another club to resume its work next week. Its work for the year will be on "Modern Poetry," a course outlined by the University of Texas, and it will also have a few special programs. This club has done a very important work in maintaining the only public library of the city, the La Retana library, which is still open now. The officers of the club for this year will be: Miss Mary Marie Hill, president; Miss Mary Carroll, first vice-president; Miss Arthur Blischer, second vice-president; Miss Marie Blischer, recording secretary; Miss Maude French, corresponding secretary; Miss Estelle Wood, club treasurer; Miss Ruthie Hosmer, library treasurer. There are also various standing committees.

Another interesting club of the city is the Adelphi club. The program committee for this year consists of Miss Pauline Crawford, Mrs. L. H. Beckow, and Miss Mary Carroll, who are engaged to study this year a most improved program. A variety of subjects are included in this program among them being "Americanism and American Ideas," "Current Literature and Political Science." The officers for the year are as follows: Mrs. H. G. Schaeffer, president; Miss Edna E. Scott, first vice-president; Mrs. W. H. Griffin, second vice-president; Dr. Elmer Hartman, consultant; Mrs. F. P. Ballou, corresponding secretary; Miss Mary Woods, corresponding secretary; Miss R. W. Hartman, treasurer. There are various local chapters who report from time to time, and there is a rural housewife and thrift chairman. That organization does an important work each year.

The only musical club of the city is the Harmonie club, and this year their study will be on modern songs and American composers. The most important work for the year will be the contests which they will present for which various songs will be selected before the eyes of last year's song. They also propose to do some short study also of the effects of this year are: Mrs. F. E. Johnson, president; Mrs. M. T. Hammon, first vice-president; Mrs. J. Howard, second vice-president; Mrs. E. A. Carter, corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. A. Tompkins, corresponding secretary; Mrs. H. G. Alton, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Roister
